Niles 'Death Corner' Claims Lives of Two Hayward Men In Truck-Trailer Collision

Death continues to stalk the intersection of Niles Canyon Road and Hayward-San Jose Highway.

Wednesday at 8:05 a.m., Walter D. Coffee, 65, of 22315 Garden avenue, Hayward, was killed in an auto-truck crash at this dangerous intersection near Niles, and his companion, Leonard Zumsteg, 42, of 2597 A street, Hayward, died at Fairmont Hospital three hours later of injuries.

The two men, both carpenters, employed on the construction of a new bridge in Niles Canyon, upon reporting to work Wednesday morning were told that their services would not be needed that day because of the rain. En route home from the project, the light car driven by Coffee was struck while crossing the Hayward-San Jose highway by a southbound 20-ton California Motor Express truck and trailer unit driven by John Carpenter, 35, of Oakland.

CAR DEMOLISHED

Carpenter told investigating highway patrol officers that the light car came through a stop sign onto the highway and it was impossible for him to maneuver his heavy vehicle in time to avoid the crash. The automobile was struck on the right side and spun into a 12,000-volt power line pole, which it snapped off at the ground, and then careened on south of the intersection more than 250 feet.

The truck and trailer, loaded with merchandise, veered off the highway to the right and overturned in the soft mud, sheering

LIVES OF SCHOOL CHILDREN IMPERILED

NILES ELEMENTARY SCHOOL
Niles, California

October 30, 1947

Mr. L. R. Batman, Editor and Publisher
Township Register
Niles, California.
Dear Mr. Batman:

I am writing you relative to the hazardous crossing at the junction of the Niles Canyon Highway and the Oakland-San Jose highway.

First, you have my hearty commendation for the articles you have written heretofore relative to this constant danger.

My daily worry centers on this crossing for our school children. At present we are transporting approximately 240 boys and girls, that includes the morning and afternoon trips, and on several occasions their lives have been imperiled in spite of the extra precaution taken by our driver, Mr. Morgan.

Mr. Batman, it is a dangerous crossing and no arguments to the contrary can convince me or any other person who is interested in the safety of human lives that it is not.

Since you have drawn the attention of the State authorities to this hazard and the urgent reqeust that they do something about it, and since they evidently have sidestepped the issue, may I respectfully suggest that we demand a public hearing so that all the people of our community will have an opportunity to voice their opinions.

In the words of Patrick Henry, "Why stand we here idle?"

Keep up the good work, Mr. Batman, and I know results will come for the general good of our people.

Sincerely yours,
E. DIXON BRISTOW,
District Superintendent

$500,000 PROJECT AT MASONIC HOME

A building and repair program to exceed $500,000 is planned for the Masonic Home at Decoto in the near future.

The project, expected to get underway before the first of the year, will include the building of new quarters for employees, in preparation for an expected increase in the number of guests, who now number over 300; doubling of the present hospital accommodations; and the remodeling of the kitchen with the installation of a new freezing unit.

William Mooser, San Francisco architect, is at present working on the drawings for the new construction.

The Masonic Home's original building was erected at the present site just off the Niles-Hayward highway near Decoto in 1896 and was dedicated in 1898. The first guests were admitted in March of the following year. A master plan for the buildings of the home was adopted in 1921 and final construction to conform with the plan was completed in 1930 when the present 5-story building was opened.

The home is now operating to capacity with a growing waiting list.

NILES ROTARIANS TO HELP FILL "FRIENDSHIP TRAIN"

The Niles Rotary Club has joined with the Livermore Rotarians to fill the "Friendship Train" with food products for the hungry Europeans.

Next week a drive for wheat, flour, sugar, dried beans and peas will get under way in Niles with the following Rotarians doing the collecting: Bill Helm, Ed Enos, Tony Enos and Joe Gomes.

The men are asking for contributions of any of the above products from those in the community who are interested in alleviating the critical food shortage in Europe.

JURY TRIAL SLATED FOR CENTERVILLE

A jury trial, the first to be held in Centerville Justice Court in more than five years, may or may not take place at 1 p.m. today (Friday), depending on the whims of a man named Randolph E. Nelsen who is charged with vagrancy.

Nelsen, a 47-year-old itinerant, is in custody of the sheriff's office in lieu of $100 bail, and has indicated that he will plead his own case without the assistance of an attorney.

His demand for a jury trial has resulted in the calling of a panel of 20 residents of the district from which 12 will be selected as jurors. Although all this time and trouble must be expended to prepare for a jury trial, it is thought highly probable that the defendant may appear in court at the time of the trial and change his plea to guilty.

The defendant took just such a change of heart a few weeks ago in Judge E. A. Quaresma's court in Niles, asking first for a court trial and at the last minute changing his plea to guilty.

RAINFALL HALTS DROP IN WATER LEVEL OF WELLS

The 3.07 inches of rainfall recorded here during October had no affect on the water table of the local wells as far as supplying additional water was concerned, but has halted the constant lowering of the water level by eliminating the use of the well water for irrigation and lawns.

E. F. Glassbrook, manager of the Public Utilities of California, Niles, stated Wednesday that the wells supplying Niles are now maintaining a constant water level, whereas they had shown a slight constant decrease since early summer.

AT LOW EBB

A spokesman for the Alameda County Water District stated that the water level in the deep wells now used to supply the majority of the communities of the township is now at approximately 50 feet below sea level, within a few feet of the lowest mark ever recorded here. He reported that the water stood at about the 40-foot below sea level mark at the beginning of the unusually dry summer and continued to show a constant drop until this month.

The water directors pointed out that the water tables will show no rise in this area until there has been sufficient rainfall to cause a flow of water in Alameda Creek. The Alameda Creek water percolates into the gravel beds underlying the township and it is from this water table that the communities are supplied. The rainfall thus far this fall has not been great enough to cause any appreciable flow in the parched creekbed.

WET MONTH

Manuel Swartz, keeper of the rain gauge at the Southern Pacific depot in Niles, reported yesterday that a total of 3.43 inches of rainfall had been recorded here since Juy 1, 1947. Of this amount all but .36 of an inch fell in October.

Daily rainfall this month was as follows:

October 8—.11 inch.
October 10 —1.35 inches.
October 11—.43 inch.
October 16—.24 inch.
October 17—.35 inch.
October 21—.23 inch.
October 29—.36 inch.

JUNIOR COLLEGE GETS ENDORSEMENT

A resolution endorsing the establishment of a junior college on the grounds of the Naval Station near Livermore, which project is receiving considerable favor in Alameda County, was passed Tuesday at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

It has been pointed out that receipts from the county tax, levied at the rate of 3 cents, now are spent for tuition of Alameda county residents who attend junior colleges outside of this county.

The chamber voted to bring to the attention of Supervisor Chester E. Stanley the parking violations occurring at the entrance to the old county road opposite the Niles Theater. This road now serves as an alley. It was suggested that "no parking" signs be erected at the entrance.

The Merchants Section of the Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular monthly evening meeting at the International Kitchen Wednesday, Nov. 5.

FIVE INJURED IN ALVARADO CRASH

A head-on crash between two cars on the Marsh Road near Alvarado Tuesday morning brought injury to five persons, two of them residents of Newark.

The injured were: Emil Huizar, 517 Sycamore street, Newark, and his sister, Natalie; Wilson Hullfish, Menlo Park; his wife, Ann, and Arthur F. Nelson, East Palo Alto.

Highway patrolmen who investigated the accident said that Huizar's machine skidded and crashed into one driven by Nelson on the rain drenched road.

The injured were taken to Fairmont Hospital in the Dallas Paul ambulance.

WILL THE TOWNSHIP ACCEPT?

Would you go as far as Hayward to hear artists as popular as Rubinstein, Lilly Pons, Nelson Eddy, Paul Robeson or Jascha Heifetz?

If you would—and who wouldn't!—then you are indeed interested in the Community Concert Service which is presently being organized in this area.

Under this unique plan the artists mentioned above are only a few of the many affiliated with the Community Concert Service, which brings world-famous artists to small American cities. (See "A Carnegie Hall in Every Town" in the January, 1947, issue of Coronet magazine.)

We hope that Washington Township, which has been invited by Hayward to participate in this venture, will accept the invitation with alacrity.

By "acceptance" we mean to subscribe to the membership plan. Memberships may be purchased for only $5, which fee guarantees the member at least three concerts during the season. Single performance tickets will not be available. So if you fail to buy a membership when it is offered to you, you will be out of luck.

Remember: you will have to go only as far as Hayward to hear and see some of the top-flight artists in the world. You will not hear all of them, of course. You may not hear your favorites this first season. But whatever or whomever you hear, you may be assured that it will be the best.

Thinking Things Over...

By VIVIAN BATMAN

We had dinner at the Danville Hotel in Danville the other night. Duncan Hines ate there and recommended it. Frankly, I think Duncan Hines must have indigestion by now, as he is always eating. His name is becoming as common in the advertising of restaurants as Kilroy's on box cars.

I, too, could recommend the Danville place, but does anybody put up a sign, "Vivian Batman recommends this place?" No! Of course, nobody ever heard of me, but whoever heard of Duncan Hines until he started recommending places to eat?

I would willingly be his understudy, however, and I must remember to write to him and let him know. No doubt the poor man is quite weary of doing all this eating.

But to get back to Danville. It is food, not atmosphere, that counts there. Our party—there were four of us—asked the waiter for candles. "We like candles on the table," we confided.

"Ha!" he said

Having noticed that the menu was in French, I observed, "He probably doesn't understand English."

I know two French phrases. They are both from the popular song, "Mamselle," to wit: "Je vous aime" and "Je vous adore." I decided against using either of these two, however. After all, it might be rather disconcerting to the waiter to be told that he was loved and adored by a woman to whom he was passing a tray of garlic French bread (Oh, pardonez-moi. I mean "Bread Bordelaise.") Anyhow, how would that get us the candles?

So we gesticulated wildly, "La can-del. You know—la flame!"

He said, "Ha! Ha!"

I'm sure that if we had said anything further he would have said, "Ha! Ha! Ha!" He was definitely in a rut and we relapsed into silence while we read the menu to make a choice of entrees.

"Chicken saute sec aux Sherry" had a sort of "Forever Amberish" appeal so I ordered that. (Incidentally, it turned out to be fried chicken. But good.)

The chef appeared. He was a colorful character with all the air and aplomb you hope to see in a chef—tall starched hat, Adolph Menjou moustache, emotional gestures.

He came over to our table. "Ah—and is everything all right? The food, is she good?"

"Very good," we agreed heartily. "But — er — how about candles? They lend atmosphere, don't you think? You know,—makes it more cozy-like."

"Madame," he said sternly. "We do not concentrate on atmosphere. We concentrate on food. Poof! Who wants candles!" He sputtered as though he were blowing one out. "Candles. Humph! They only get in the way. If I get candles, I have to get new waiters. Waiters do not like candles."

He looked fondly at his waiters. After all, I guess waiters are hard to get. That may explain why he seemed to prefer them to candles.

He continued, "Besides, you should be able to see what you are eating."

"Goodness!" I exclaimed. I looked in horror at my soup, not knowing exactly what I expected to find there.

He was insulted. "Madame, there is nothing to worry about. You do not have to examine the soup that way. She is vair-ee good. Nothing but the best goes into that soup."

I was forced to believe him, inasmuch as the soup was really out of this world.

The waiter came back with a huge tray of salads—all different. I was as thrilled over this assortment as I was when I was ten, and a tray of French pastries was set before me.

"Heavens!" I exclaimed. "Which one shall I take? They all look divine. I think I'll try the beet. No, make it the chives and cottage cheese. Wait! I believe I'd rather have the tossed green salad—or perhaps the fruit would be better."

The waiter muttered under his breath. I understood the words. They were not in French. Or perhaps the French is the same as English for these words?

I fell to with gusto. After all, I had read somewhere—on the matchfolder or menu probably—that it was a place for gourmands. So I really put my heart and soul into eating.

The chef returned to our table. We were glad to see him. We wanted to tell him about the wallpaper.

"Now you could really have a lot of atmosphere," we told him, "by just changing the wallpaper. How about big red roses on a buff background?"

He became apoplectic. "Mesdames!" he exploded. "I do not care about atmosphere! I do not care about big red roses! All I care about is food!"

Then his face suddenly relaxed into a smile. "But I have ideas," he said modestly. "Someday I will paint on the walls some ducks. One duck, she will go down here." He pointed to a spot on the wall that was eye-level. "Then I will have another duck. She will be swooping up here." He waved ecstatically towards the ceiling. "Then over here"—he pointed to the other wall—"I will have a beeg, beeg black kettle. And out of this kettle will be crawling a fat beeg beautiful red lobster. She will be very pretty, no?"

"Look," I said sweetly, "let's skip the whole thing. Just serve your guests a couple of daquiris before dinner and you'll have pink elephants on the walls. Frankly, I'd prefer them to lobsters."

He became emotional again. "This is no circus, madame! This is a place for good food. This is a place for gourmets!"

I gasped. "Did you say—gourmets?" I stared at him. He nodded.

I took a quick look at the match folder. Sure enough, it WAS gourmet. And I had been eating like a gourMAND. I should have known it was too good to be true. Was there ever a place for just plain gourmands? Probably not. But if I ever find it, I shall recommend it.

In the meantime, if you ever go to Danville, remember that it's the food—not the atmosphere. In other words, bring your own candles.

Use an apple theme for Hallowe'en

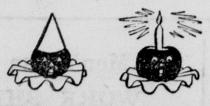
by Carol Drake

BOBBING FOR SHINY RED APPLES has been a part of Hallowe'en celebrations since Medieval days. It's still fun—whether the apples float in water or dangle from a string in a doorway. Our Colonial ancestors added this amusing bit to the custom—still good today. The successful bobber peels his apple 'round and 'round in one piece. Then, swinging the peeling around his head three times, he tosses it over his shoulder chanting:

"By this paring let me discover
The initial letter of my true lover."

MODERN MISSES COUNT APPLE SEEDS to determine marital fortune, much as English girls used to do. "One I love, two I love, three I love, I say. Four I love with all my heart: Five I cast away. Six he loves, seven she loves, eight, they both love. Nine they tarry, ten they marry, eleven they quarrel, twelve they part, thirteen she dies of a broken heart."

APPLE JACK O'LANTERNS CERTAINLY ARE A FAVOR—they're edible! Cut faces in apples; sprinkle with lemon juice so they won't discolor. Or use paper cut outs—eyes and grinning mouths—on the apples. Place each on a ruffled crepe paper collar, top with a paper cup dunce cap or insert a small candle.



CARAMEL CANDY APPLES ARE A JIFFY JOB. Melt 1 pound light-colored caramels in ½ cup evaporated milk over hot water. Stick wooden skewers or picnic forks in stem ends of washed and dried apples. Plunge apples into the caramel mixture so it covers them, twirl twice or thrice; place upside down on waxed paper to harden. They're extra good rolled in toasted coconut or chopped nuts before they harden. One pound of caramels coats 12 medium-size apples.

M-M-M MINCEMEAT IN BAKED APPLES! Two tablespoons tucked in the middle will surprise the "gobbleuns" in your family.

P.S. PLANT AN APPLE TREE FOR THE "TRICK OR TREAT" CROWD. Put a healthy-sized branch in a bucket of sand and tie apples to it. When the "spooks" arrive on the porch saying "soap or eats" they can help themselves to apple treats.

Hills Return in Time For Duck Season

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hill Jr. returned recently from a month's trip to the Hawaiian Islands. They sailed on the Matsonia. ""The Islands were wonderful, and we had a grand time," said Mrs. Hill enthusiastically. They took several side-trips by plane to different islands while they were there. Now that they have returned home they have settled down to a less glamorous, though equally interesting, life as pursuers of that elusive bird, the duck. They are inveterate hunters.

FATAL ACCIDENT

off a tree and a large road-side advertising sign. A light rain was falling at the time, and the moisture about the wreckage, coupled with the severed high-power line, offered a hazard to caring for the injured until workmen from the P. G. & E. office in Niles were able to make emergency repairs.

ELECTRICAL POWER OFF

Three communities, Niles. Irvington and Mission San Jose, were without electrical power for some 30 minutes because of the accident.

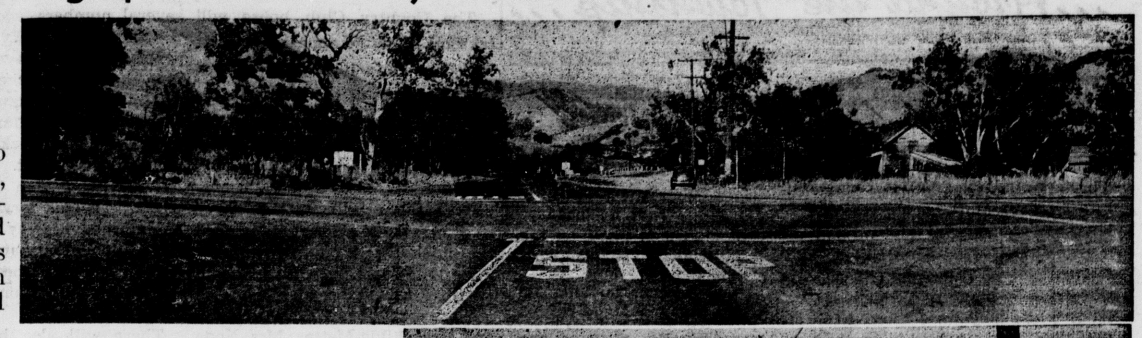
Coffee and Zumsteg were both rushed to Fairmont Hospital in the Dallas Paul ambulance. Coffee was pronounced dead on arrival and Zumsteg succumbed at 11:25 a.m.

RECALLS OTHER CRASHES

On August 13, Darcey Dunne, Wichita, Kansas, was instantly killed and his two young companions critically injured in an identical type of accident at this same intersection. Skid marks indicated that the driver of the death car did not see the stop sign in time to halt.

On September 4, three persons narrowly escaped death when they drove onto the highway from Niles Canyon and were struck by a large truck. A. Arbogart, driver of the truck, told investigating officers at that time that the passenger car came onto the highway "as though the driver did not see the stop sign." Mitsugo Kawai, Palo Alto, driver of the passenger car, said he "did not recall noticing a stop sign."

Do These Photographs Prove Canyon Road Intersection Is Safe?



We are of the opinion that they do not. Yet the Division of Highways, in its Sept.-Oct. issue of the magazine, "California Highways and Public Works," used the pictures as evidence that the intersection has good visibility and is well marked.

The STOP sign in the lower picture, which was loaned to The Register by the Division of Highways, was retouched on the printing plate to emphasize the STOP sign. The reader can note this by comparing the lettering of the STOP sign with the next adjacent sign. But we won't argue about this.

The fact is that the Division of Highways went about producing "proof" that the intersection is safe completely backward. The accidents, like Wednesday's, usually occur when a car coming out of the Canyon enters the highway. Yet the pictures were not taken from the Canyon side of the highway to show how the intersection appears to the driver. They were taken from the Niles side, from which direction there is far less hazard.

However, in these pictures, it can be noted that the Hayward-San Jose Highway slopes toward the photographer on the curve at the intersection. This sloping is AWAY FROM and OUT OF VISION of the driver coming down the Canyon Road toward Niles. And it is one of the reasons why a flashing light should be installed at the intersection.

LET THE ENGINEERS OF THE DIVISION OF HIGHWAYS FORGET, FOR ONCE, THAT THEY ARE ENGINEERS, CONSIDER THE INTERSECTION FROM THE STANDPOINT OF HUMAN BEINGS, REMEMBER THAT DRIVERS OF MOTOR CARS ARE HUMAN BEINGS, AND NOT ENGINEERS, AND SAFEGUARD THIS MURDEROUS INTERSECTION!

V.F.W. NEWS

Vallejo Mills Post No. 8293, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was instituted October 6, 1946. Organization started about two months before, when George Bolis, Theodore Lira and other discharged veterans, assisted by Robert Endsley of Hayward Post, signed a charter and selected a name and decided post details. Officers elected at that time included George Bolis, commander; Theodore Lira, senior vice-commander; Leroy Murphy, Patrick Pine, Ruben Lorenson and William Marlen.

Meetings are held the first and third Tuesdays of every month at 8 p.m. in the Veterans Memorial Building, Niles. Membership is open to any honorably discharged veteran who served overseas in either world war.

The purposes of the Veterans of Foreign Wars are: to honor and perpetuate the memory of those who gave their lives or who occupy the veterans' hospitals throughout the country; to help those veterans and veterans' families who need aid of any kind; to provide recreation and social activities for members; and to present a united front in support of legislation and reforms which affect the veterans and the United States as a whole.

The V.F.W. is a national organization with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo. It is divided into departments, one for each state, and posts which take in as much area as necessary for membership but are limited by territory of other posts. Vallejo Mills Post covers all of Washington Township except Alvarado, which has a a post of its own.

Regular post activities include visits to veterans hospitals, sale of buddy poppies once a year to help disable veterans, participation in parades and other community activities, and programs on Armistice Day and Memorial Day.

Other post activities, such as dances, parties, etc., provide recreation for the members and provide funds needed to carry on relief and other work. Meetings are made as informal as possible, discussion and suggestions are welcomed. After the business meeting is adjourned, refreshments are in order along with talk which usually reverts to memories of the service. Every veteran knows how it goes—"Now when I was on Guam . . ." or "We were just crossing the channel when . . ."

Come down to the next meeting, November 5. Maybe you can help us or we can help you.

HUSKIES TROUNCE SAN JOSE TECH; MT. VIEW TONIGHT

An inspired Washington High Huskie eleven, stinging from a 7-6 defeat the previous week by Los Gatos, gained vengeance over San Jose Tech here last Friday night by handing them a 32 to 13 defeat.

RESERVES LOOK GOOD

Coaches Jud Taylor and Clyde Voorhees, forced to use many reserves in last week's game because of injuries in the usual starting lineup, uncorked some surprise material in the form of linemen who have had little opportunity to perform thus far this season but were found to be not wanting in ability when they were called on against Tech.

Paced by big, burly, hard-hitting fullback, Bill Calhoun, the Tech eleven marched down the field to score in the early minutes of the first quarter.

For the remainder of the fray, the Huskies predominated the play, utilizing a passing attack that could not be denied. The first Huskie score came via the recovery in the end zone of a Tech pass from center which was over the head of Calhoun. Nunes' attempt for placement failed.

IMPROVE PASS ATTACK

After Tech had failed to crack the Huskie line, the localites took over on their own 30-yard stripe and in a series of six plays, which included a 30-yard pass from Graber to Orozco and a 25-yard sideline sprint by Rodriguez, the Huskies surged to a 12 to 6 lead. Rodriguez grabbed Graber's pass in the end zone for the extra point to make the score 13-6.

Washington kicked and on Tech's first play, Halliday, Huskie quarterback, intercepted Rocha's pass on Tech's 40 and outran the visitors to score. The half ended 19-6 when Sankene's attempted drop-kick was blocked.

BACKS IN TOP FORM

The Huskies scored twice in the third quarter, the first coming in the form of a pass from Rodriguez to Orozco after Sankene, Rodriguez, Graber and Halliday had alternated lugging the ball from their own 15-yard stripe. Morris grabbed Rodriguez pass for the second score in the third quarter. The boot for extra point by Nunes was good and the quarter ended 32 to 6.

Two sensational runs by Salvador, which netted 50 yards, and the fine defensive work of big Fred Duffie, were the standouts of the final period. A Huskie scoring threat was thwarted by a fumble on the Tech 30. Calhoun bagged a Tech pass in the end zone for the final touchdown of the game and Frederick, on a quarterback sneak, added the extra point.

Tonight (Friday) the Huskies and the Puppies will journey to Mountain View for a double-header league encounter.

COMMITTEE NAMED

The committee to be in charge of the arrangements for the annual Centerville Elementary School P.T.A. whist party has been appointed as follows: Mrs. Raymond Rodrigues, Mrs. Mary L. S. George, Principal Tom Maloney, Mrs. Allan Walton, Mrs. Clarence George, Mrs. Joe Santos, Mrs. Allen Norris and Mrs. Janice Reina.

The affair will be held in the school cafeteria the evening of Friday, December 5.

CLOSE FIRST HALF OF WINTER LEAGUE; RESUME PLAY SUN.

The first half of the Alameda County Winter Baseball League play ended Sunday with Irvington in the third-place notch with four victories and three losses; Decoto in seventh place with a 2-5 standing and Niles in the cellar spot with one win against six losses.

WIN ON FORFEIT

The Irvingtonites banged the outfield fences of their home park Sunday to down Marlos of Decoto 13 to 4. Dutra pitched a stellar game for the Irvington club, striking out 12 batters and giving but six hits. His teammates hit at the opportune times to pile up the sizeable lead. Catcher Rivers drove out a homer in the fifth with the bases loaded. Davis, Rose and Pine each got triples.

Niles, slated to meet the Golden State Fireworks team on the Centerville field, won their only victory of the first half on a forfeit.

CHANGE ROSTER

Managers Frank Mayer, Irvington; Al Ferreira, Marlo; and Tom Pugmire, Niles, have asked that any players desiring to participate in the second half of league play contact them immediately.

The second round opens Sunday with Irvington playing host to Hernandez Market; Niles meeting Ramos Drugs at Centerville; and Marlo journeying to Ashland. All games are called for 2 p.m.

ARMY VETERANS RECEIVE MEDALS

Seargeant William Cote, Army recruiter for the Washington area, revealed this week that he would spend two days each week here interviewing men interested in joining the regular army and distributing medals to army veterans of World War II.

HERE EACH WEEK

Sergeant Cote will have his mobile unit parked in front of the post office in Centerville each Monday between the hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and in front of the Niles post office each Friday at the same hours.

He revealed that he had awarded the Victory Medal to the following veterans here: Edward Rose, Irving W. Haberle, Glenn E. Moorehead, William Owen, Melvin L. Maroney, Vernon Ellsworth, Odes L. Anderson, Joseph Morva, Thomas C. Wilson, Lloyd B. Bell, L. O. Robinson, Buster H. Terrell, Howard Souza, Frank D. Wisdom and LeRoy Broun. Haberle, Moorehead, Terrell and Broun also were awarded the Defense Medal for service prior to December 7, 1941.

Sergeant Cote, in explaining the army's new recruiting policy, explained that men between the ages of 17 to 34, with a high school education or its equivalent, may now choose a specialist training course before enlistment and will then be sent to schools to qualify in their selected field. He added that men who want to continue their high school or college education while they are in the army may do so during off-duty hours by means of the facilities provided by the United States Armed Forces Institute.

MAY EXTEND FUND DRIVE HERE FOR COMMUNITY CHEST

With but three days remaining until the scheduled closing of the 1947 Community Chest Campaign, community chairmen Wednesday morning had turned in $4,300 of the $6,000 quota to Campaign Manager Warren Gravestock.

PRAISES WORKERS

"Each of the community chairmen reported at that time that they had a few more calls to make so a complete tally of the collections can not be made until the first of next week," Gravestock said.

When asked if the closing date of the campaign would be extended should the collections fall short of the goal, Gravestock replied, "Indeed it will. We have always gone over our quotas here in Washington Township and we have no intentions of 'falling short' this year."

Gravestock was quick to praise the work of the community chairmen and their assistants who have donated their time and efforts in conducting the drive. "Without exception the workers have done a marvelous job and deserve the heartfelt thanks of all of us for the speedy and efficient manner in which they have gone out and helped us toward achievement of our goal," he added.

THREE WEEK DRIVE

The campaign here this year opened October 13 and is scheduled to close today (Friday), giving the workers one week less time to collect the contributions than in former years.

Three organizations, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Salvation Army will receive portions of the money donated here.

CODE VIOLATION HALTS BUILDING

Construction work on a building being erected by M. A. McDermott on the highway east of the Niles business district has been halted because of lack of conformity to the county unified building code, according to Inspector Otto Fuetterer of Hayward.

The inspector stated that McDermott, who engages in a variety of enterprises, failed to secure a building permit before starting construction. The building, which McDermott was putting up himself, violates several regulations of the county code, the inspector said.

Under the code, the structure must either be made to conform to code requirements or be removed.

ATTENDS BROADCAST

Some time ago Mrs. Janie Lofton gave a Mop Party and through her friends' purchases she was able to go to a morning broadcast. Finally the day arrived and on October 21 she and Mrs. Williams of the Williams Apartments of Niles motored to Hayward where Mrs. Louise Bowles, the representative for this district, took them as her guests to the beautiful Hotel Claremont in Berkeley to the "Quality Hostess Breakfast" and broadcast. Following a delicious and leisurely consumed breakfast, the ladies in the audience were called upon to give a few words on their most embarrassing moment and Janie Lofton won a prize. She declared it was really wonderful and she enjoyed every moment of it.

ENJOY OUTING

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Oliver of Centerville and Mr. and Mrs. Perry King of Pleasanton, accompanied by Miss Virginia Lawrence of the Mission and her fiance, Bobby Olivera, motored to Suisun Bay on Sunday for a grand day of fishing and picnicking.

SUNDAY GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Escover and son, Manuel, of Los Gatos, accompanied by Miss Dolores Santos of the Mission were Sunday dinner guests at Manteca at the home of relatives of the Escovers.

A CORRECTION

First a correction from last week's news notes. It was stated that the dance to be held by the Men's Social Club was to be a masquerade. This was a mistake. There will be modern and Chamarita dances but not a costume dance. So don't stay away because you have no outfit. It's not needed.

WEEK-END AT FELTON

Mrs. Rose Rogers accompanied the Harold Millards to Felton over the week-end to their summer home there.

BREAKS ARM

Little Marie Andrade, who with her mother just came over from Azores to make their home with Mrs. Rose Goularte, fell the other day at the Grammar School and sustained a broken arm just above the wrist. She is attending school as usual.

Lois and Glenn Bottenberg, accompanied by her son, Bud Justus and wife, Colleen, spent a very enjoyable day Sunday seeing points of interest in Marin county. Going by ferry to San Rafael and into Muir Woods, across the Golden Gate Bridge to the museum at Golden Gate Park and home across the Bay Bridge. A picnic lunch was enjoyed along the way.

ELECT OFFICERS

Sunday morning, following the mass, the Rosarians of St. Joseph's Parish met in their hall in the Old Mission and partook of their annual get-together and reunion breakfast. Following the repast they had their election of officers for the coming year which are as follows: Miss Louise Correia, president; Mrs. Mary Borge, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Josephine Fernandez and Mrs. Grace Meyer, altar committee; Mrs. Mary Williams, head of committee to attend to refreshments for catechism classes. There was a fair sized number of members present for this meeting.

FIRST BIRTHDAY

With a lovely birthday cake and all the trimmings, little David Virgil Campagna celebrated his first birthday on October 23 at the home of his parents on Ellsworth street. His mommie is the former Anna May Escobar. The little man received many lovely gifts from his guests as follows: his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Rose Escobar, Mission, and Mrs. Campagna, his paternal grandmother, of Pleasanton; Mrs. Mary Sanchez and Anita Louise Sanchez, Victoria Anselmo, and Joan and Bobbie, all of Pleasanton; Mrs. Rose Furtado and Mrs. Chris Escobar of Hayward; Mary Souza, Mary Amaral and daughter, Diana, and Mrs. Rose Silva, all of the Mission. The cake was placed in front of little David to see what he would do but he seemed to look about in wonderment. His mommie put some of the frosting on his face and then they took pictures of all the guests and the cake. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

TOWNSHIP TO BE OFFERED MEMBERSHIPS

A Community Concert Service, whereby world famed artists will be brought to Hayward to give concerts, will be launched next week in this area by a membership drive which, it is hoped, will bring in 1200 members who will be afforded the opportunity of attending at least three concerts this season, and probably more, to be given by renowned artists.

Organization of the Community Concert Association for Hayward and Washington Township was effected by preliminary meetings held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sparks in Hayward.

DINNER MEETING

The purpose of the organization will be thoroughly outlined at a dinner meeting to be held next Monday evening at Svendsgaard's, to which 100 invitations to interested persons in the Hayward-Washington Township area have been extended.

In brief, however, the plan is to bring Columbia concert artists to Hayward on a basis that eliminates all financial risk on the part of any person, group, or organization.

Officers of the association are: Floyd Sparks, president; Jeryl Fry, Howell Plemmons, Mrs. Kenneth Henry and Dr. H. F. McCartor, vice-presidents; Mrs. Harold Bay, secretary; Mrs. A. E. Fischer, Jr., treasurer; and Mrs. Manza Blake, general chairman.

TOWNSHIP REPRESENTED

The board of directors is comprised of Dwight Thornburg, Centerville; Richard Nickelassen, Edward Massa, George Z. Wilson, Mrs. Blanche Henningsen, Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Dr. F. K. Kearney, Mrs. Bess Snyder, Mrs. Stewart Clapp of San Lorenzo Village; Mrs. Vivian Batman of Niles; and Mrs. Mildred Leidig.

Kenneth Henry, Niles Rotarian, has been assigned to extend the invitations to the dinner Monday night and Mrs. Gerald Irving is dinner chairman.

WEEK'S CAMPAIGN

The dinner session will launch a week long campaign for the sale of memberships in the organized audience plan, and a goal of approximately 1200 memberships at $5 each has been set for the campaign.

At the conclusion of the membership campaign a committee will be named to select concert artists and the dates for their appearances in Hayward.

Gerald Irving and George Wilson will be responsible for arranging for the high school auditorium for the concerts and John Sandoval has been assigned to the position of publicity director.

LIVESTOCK SHOW OPENS SATURDAY

Animal trails of a nation this week led to California's huge Cow Palace in San Francisco for the opening Saturday, November 1, of the 1947 Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo.

Twelve thousand seats, all under the gigantic cantilever roof of the main arena building, make it possible to accommodate comfortably the more than 150,000 spectators expected to attend the show. Because there is neither pillar nor post in the huge building, every bit of action may be viewed from every seat in the indoor stadium.

The auction sales, dramatic shows in themselves, will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The Grand Champion Steer, king of the show, will be crowned Monday at 10 a.m.

Two of the matinees, the opening next Saturday and that of Saturday, November 8, have been dedicated to the young folks with prices for these two performances materially reduced.
